Tigers Nipped, 7-6, By Hillsboro Team

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

Trailing 7-0 for three quarters, Circleville's Tigers struck for a quick touchdown in the fourth period but failed to make the all-important extra point which led to a 7-6 defeat at Hillsboro last night.

Hillsboro scored the first time they got hold of the ball in the first quarter but from then on the Tigers stiffened to hold the Indians at bay. The Tigers' moment of glory came on the first play of the final quarter when quarterback Mike Hosler pitched a perfect pass to right half Walt Arledge, the play covering 60 yards.

However, Circleville's chances faded when Hosler's pass for the extra point fell incomplete. The difference proved to be in the first quarter when Hillsboro's Gilbert Kittrell made good on his conversion.

Hillsboro threatened again late in the fourth quarter. End Richard Miller intercepted a Hosler pass and returned it to Circleville's nine-yard line. The Indians worked the ball to the three-yard stripe but were thrown back to the 19 on the next two plays and lost the ball on downs.

CIRCLEVILLE made a bid for a touchdown in the third quarter, putting on a drive that carried all the way to Hillsboro's 20-yard line, but the thrust ran out of steam at this point with the Indians taking over on downs.

The Tigers' eventual downfall came early. Failing to move after taking the initial kickoff, Hosler kicked to Hillsboro's 35 and Jasper Oppy returned the boot 10 yards to the 45. Wasting no time the host team moved 55 yards in 10 plays to register their only TD of the evening.

Halfback Oppy and fullback Kittrell did most of the damage, carrying the ball on nine of the 10 plays. The longest run in this series was a 15-yard jaunt by Oppy which moved the pigskin to Circleville's 25. The elusive back continued in high gear, going into the end zone from two yards out several plays later.

Circleville was caught clipping on the following kickoff and was forced to take the ball on the 10-yard line. Not dismayed the Tigers promptly fashioned a drive which carried them to mid-field.

The drive was sparked by the entire CHS backfield with Dick Bircher, Larry Hannahs, Walt Arledge and Ray Phifer juggling the oval. The biggest chunk of yardage was collected on a Hosler pass to end Bill Johnson who made a leaping catch good for 22 yards. The thrust bogged down three plays later when Hosler was forced to punt, Hillsboro returning the ball to its own 35.

THE ball changed hands five times during the second quarter with neither team able to come up with a serious threat, although the half ended with the pigskin on Hillsboro's 30. With only a couple of minutes remaining in the half, Ray Phifer intercepted a Kittrell pass and returned it to his own 45. The locals picked up 15 more yards on a Hillsboro unnecessary roughness penalty and Hosler completed a 10-yard pass to end Jon Parcher just as the half ended.

Taking Asa Elsea's second half kickoff, the Indians moved to Circleville's 26 before losing the ball on downs, thanks to some determined defensive work by CHS linemen.

With Hosler, Hannahs, Bircher and Arledge carrying, the locals fashioned a sustained drive which went to Hillsboro's 20. However, a fourth down try for a first and ten failed and the Indians took over.

Just as the fourth period got underway Hosler stepped back and fired a perfect strike to Arledge who had worked his way behind Hillsboro's safetyman. Taking the aerial without missing a stride the fleet halfback raced into the end zone untouched.

Trailing, 7-6, with about four minutes remaining Circleville went to the air in an effort to hit paydirt. Hillsboro's Miller ruined this bid by intercepting one of the aeriels and racing back to the CHS nine. However, the Indians failed to score when Johnson smashed through to nail an end run for a loss and Elsea did the same thing on the next play.

With time running out Hosler connected with Johnson on a 15-yard pass and hit Jon Parcher on a 10 yarder just as the final gun sounded.

THE loss was a discouraging one for the Tigers who were seeking their first win in four tries. The win gives Hillsboro a record of two victories and two losses.

In the locker room Coach Tom Bennett said a poor first quarter led to the Tigers' defeat. He pointed out that the locals' offense failed to click following the kickoff and that the defense appeared sluggish when Hillsboro got the ball for the first time.

Next week Circleville hosts Dayton Kiser on the local gridiron. The tilt will be parents' night.

Here are the lineups:

Tiger Band Pleases Fans

Circleville High School's marching band made a long trip to Hillsboro last night, delighting fans with an entertaining show during halftime of the Tiger-Indian football game.

Led onto the field by high-stepping Drum Major Mary Ann Edstrom and her equally fancy moving majorettes, the Truman Eberly directed musicians based their theme on "Gift Times".

Gift occasions presented by the bandmen were Valentine's Day, Birthdays, weddings and Christmas. Each of the occasions was accompanied with appropriate music and formations. Formations included a valentine, a birthday cake complete with candles, wedding bells and a Christmas tree.

The local unit completed the evening's show with the playing and singing of Circleville's Alma Mater, "The Red and the Black".

Scientists Seek To Track Course of Earth Satellite

Link Broken in Chain Binding Humans To Earth as Soviets Launch Satellite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Russia has won a race to step first into space with a baby moon. It brings her enormous popular prestige, and worldwide congratulations of scientists.

Something fashioned by human hands and minds is whirling around the world as a Columbus of space. That's the tremendous initial impact. A link is broken in the chain binding humans to earth.

Baby moons are the first messengers to tell us what space is like, to answer some mysteries of the void between earth, sun and stars.

Now the burning question is: Just how elusive is this first messenger, and what will it actually tell us about space?

It can be valuable only if: A. Scientists or amateurs in Russia or anywhere else can spot it often enough to learn its orbit, to predict where it goes next, and so learn what happens to it.

B. It radios back information about what it learns.

C. It lasts long enough before falling back close to earth and perishes like a shooting star.

Answers to these critical points are still awaited.

It will take at least several accurate and separated "fixes" of the moon's position to learn its orbit, to predict when you might see it in the dawn or dusk sky with binoculars.

Its path must be known before changes in its path have solid meaning. How much it is slowed down will tell scientists how dense the earth's air is at such high altitudes. Or how many meteorites or cosmic dust particles the moon is bumping into.

The moon carries a radio. Radio "fixes" could help determine its path.

The moon is broadcasting on relatively low radio frequencies, 20 and 40 megacycles. These, say U. S. experts, may be "bent" by the earth's high air and so make it more difficult accurately to judge the moon's real position. Planned U. S. moons will send signals at a much higher frequency.

Russia has not indicated that she has telescopic cameras which once the orbit is known, could detect the slightest variations in its path and their meaning.

Russia said the artificial moon was launched Friday by multiple stage rockets. The site of the launching was not given.

The instrument-laden globe was described as 23 inches in diameter and weighing 185 pounds. The announced weight is about nine times that of a projected 22-inch U. S. earth satellite.

An announcement by the official agency Tass said the moon was circling the globe every hour and 35 minutes.

The launching came just three months and four days after the opening of the International Geophysical Year, a concerted program by the world's scientists to learn more earth secrets.

Tass said the moon can be observed by simple optical instruments in the evening or early morning. Scientists tracked the tiny satellite by radar and radio.

"The successful launching of the first man-made satellite makes a tremendous contribution to the treasure house of world science and culture," the Tass announcement said and added:

"Artificial earth satellites will pave the way for space travel and it seems that the present generation will witness how the freed and conscious labor of the people of the new socialist society turns into reality the most bold dreams of mankind."

In announcing Soviet plans to launch several artificial moons, Soviet IGY Chairman Ivan P. Barin and his associates said June 18 the first would be sent aloft within the geophysical year.

At the same time they protested they were not in a race with the United States to be first. But the propaganda value of being the first is great in these days when many nations are inclined to choose between the two leading powers of the world.

Soviet 'Moon' Traveling at 18,000 Mph.

Radio-Equipped Ball Now Circling Earth Every 95 Minutes

WASHINGTON (AP) — American scientists strove today to chart the course of the first earth satellite, sent aloft Friday by Russia.

Radio signals from the man-made moon were reported picked up by government agencies. The artificial moon was circling the globe every 95 minutes 560 miles out in space and at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

The Russians gave no orbit for the satellite. One Moscow broadcast said Soviet scientists are tracking the satellite with special telescopes.

The Defense Department said they were not in a race with the United States to be first. But the propaganda value of being the first is great in these days when many nations are inclined to choose between the two leading powers of the world.

There were also a number of reports from observers in this country that the satellite had been sighted.

BUT OFFICIALS at the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., said it was not yet visible to observers. The observatory is headquarters of the network of stations set up to track the satellites this country plans to launch.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the observatory, said computations have determined that the rocket is invisible because of the relation of its course to the position of the sun. He said scientists believe the tiny moon was fired in a west-to-east direction.

A Japanese scientist reported observing the satellite by telescope over Niigata, Japan. The scientist reported it was traveling southwest by northeast.

Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the technical panel of earth satellites for the International Geophysical Year, said here that an approximate orbit had been computed.

He said the satellite should have whizzed over Philadelphia this morning, and that succeeding passes would cross the Midwest and the Pacific Coast.

Porter said the approximate orbit was figured out by piecing together "miscellaneous bits of information from amateur, commercial and government radio receiving stations both in this country and Japan."

HE SAID radio signals from the satellite "should be strong enough to be heard on amateur communications receivers throughout most of New England and the north Atlantic states" during the predicted pass over Philadelphia.

The Soviet "moon" is broadcasting on lower frequencies — 20 and 40 megacycles, or 15 and 7.5-meter wave lengths.

At Pasadena, Calif., Dr. Henry L. Richter Jr. of the California Institute of Technology said special equipment intercepted the transmission of coded information from the satellite.

"Unless the Russians give us a clue," he said, "we may not be able to decipher the messages."

Cop Answers Ad, Catches Scalper

CHICAGO (AP) — A newspaper advertisement answered by police proved to be the downfall of a timely business operation.

Policeman Joseph Joyce answered the classified advertisement which appeared in a newspaper Friday it said:

"World Series tickets, Milwaukee, Oct. 5-6-7, Euclid 3-5135."

Joyce telephoned the number and said he was told to contact "Case" at a downtown restaurant. The party who answered used the name "Lewis Case" and was asking $50 for a $7 ticket.

Joyce met his contact and arrested Frank Parker, 43, who he said was the ticket scalper.

Salvation Army Aids Destitute

The last in a series of stories about the five agencies supported by the Pickaway County Community Fund.

The Salvation Army moves quietly, but effectively, in helping the needy and troubled in Pickaway County.

One of five Pickaway County Community Fund agencies, the Salvation Army asks only $3,000 to maintain its services here for the next year.

If that figure is not obtained, the operations of the Salvation Army in the county will have to be curtailed.

Last year the Army gave aid to destitute families in emergencies. For example, there were 65 persons who obtained a night's lodging here through efforts of the Salvation Army.

The Army furnished 60 gallons of gasoline and two tires and tubes for needy travelers. Bus tickets were provided to 13 different persons.

TEN NEEDY families were given groceries, and 15 pairs of shoes were provided. The Army gave 109 persons meals during the period, persons who would have been hungry in Pickaway County had it not been for the Salvation Army.

Needy Pickaway County families were given 926 pounds of clothing. In addition, the local Salvation Army unit sent 1,000 pounds of clothing to Columbus for needy persons there.

The Army even went so far as to make payments on a washing machine, amounting to $30.93, for a woman and three children who had been deserted by the husband and father.

Three layettes were provided for new mothers and five cots were placed in the City Building for use by destitute persons. The kiddies are not forgotten either. At Christmas time the Army spent $50 for toys and groceries.

Plans have been made to send 10 underprivileged Pickaway County children to the Salvation Army summer camp next July and August. Four families, whose homes had burned were assisted through the efforts of the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army truck calls in Circleville each Friday, collecting used clothing, household goods, shoes and toys. These are returned through the services of the Salvation Army to needy and underprivileged persons in the county.

The Salvation Army's share of the local Community Fund is about 11 per cent of the total goal. Without the services, Pickaway County would not be the hospitable, friendly place it is, especially for those in need.

Kent Man Is Bound To Jury in Slaying

KENT (AP) — Roland Metcalf, 21, of Kent is being held to the grand jury. He was arraigned in Municipal Court Friday, charged with first-degree murder in the holdup-slaying of John DuBois.

Metcalf admitted in court that he shot the 67-year-old DuBois during a holdup attempt Wednesday night in the bookstore DuBois operated near the Kent State University campus.

Judge James France ordered Metcalf held without bond.

Fund Figures Hit $12,950, 45 Per Cent

Final Reports Due Today at Fund Offices

Collections for the 1957 Pickaway County Community Fund today hit $12,950—or just more than 45 per cent of the $28,700 goal.

Money started rolling into Fund Headquarters yesterday as the final windup of the campaign, which ends officially today, neared.

All solicitors were to turn in their reports today by noon. However, it is expected that some calls will have to be made later to homes missed in this week's house-to-house solicitation.

Fund headquarters reported that many solicitors have still failed to report, even though today is the last official day of the drive.

THE $28,700 goal is a "rock bottom" figure, needed to finance the operations of five Pickaway County agencies next year. They are the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Canteen and Red Cross.

If the goal is not met the activities of these vital welfare agencies will probably have to be curtailed. It is hoped that all who have not contributed to the Pickaway County Community Fund will do so immediately. If you have not been contacted by a solicitor, send a check to the Fund, American Hotel, N. Court St., Circleville.

Lima Clinic Escapee Nabbed in Mississippi

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Floyd Edward Keith, 28, of Cincinnati, identified by FBI agents as an escapee from Lima Hospital for the Criminal Insane, is in jail here today awaiting a hearing. He is charged with unlawful flight to escape confinement.

The FBI said his wife, whom he married two years ago, did not know that he escaped from the Lima institution in 1952. He had been transferred there from Ohio Penitentiary where he was serving 10-15 years on a 1949 conviction for robbery.

Williams County Shortage Hiked

COLUMBUS (AP) — Shortages found in the Williams County treasury Friday climbed to $6,391.24. State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported examiners uncovered an additional $2,356.92 shortage in various accounts.

The auditor's office said the largest of the newly found shortages is one of $1,656.92 in the sales tax account. This account had not been audited at the time a shortage of $4,032.32 in county funds was discovered last week.

Four-term treasurer Garland Beck resigned Wednesday after the first shortages were reported by Rhodes' office.

Rockefeller Says Little Rock Crisis Hurts State's Business

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, member of the great financial clan and an Arkansas business and political leader, said Friday night that the Little Rock integration crisis has damaged the state's plan to bring in more industry.

"It will be six months before we can accurately estimate the damage there has been," he said. Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, said he believed the spirit of good will and moderation on the part of Arkansians was beginning to assert itself.

Rockefeller said of the Development Commission:

"We are not defeated. We have confidence. The commission will go ahead with its work. We will continue to point out the advantages that Arkansas has to offer industry. Its outstanding recreational opportunities. And I might say that it is a good place to live."

Meanwhile, Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus, focal point of the racial dispute swirling around Little Rock's Central High School, compared himself with Gen. Robert E. Lee, hero of the Confederacy.

"Lee was offered command of the Federal Army in 1861," the governor said. "Lee decided to remain loyal to the people of his state (Virginia). The Democratic party of the North wanted me to go along with them on the integration issue. I will remain with the people of Arkansas."

Month-long strife over Central High integration settled into a weekend calm broken only by one incident late Friday night.

Robert King, 19, a 1956 graduate of Central High, said he was knocked down by a paratrooper's rifle butt and menaced with a bayonet during a dance at the high school field house.

The Army admitted that King was "pushed by a soldier's rifle and fell to the ground" but a spokesman said King provoked the incident.

King said he and four companions went to the dance after a football game here. He said his group and a number of other persons went outside to smoke while the dance was going on, and two members of a 101st Airborne Division told them to move on.

King said he told the soldiers that he saw no reason why they should move. The action followed.

CANTON (AP) — Three young men, co-workers at the General Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron, are in jail today awaiting charges for an amateurexecuted holdup in which $5,321 was stolen from the Uniontown Savings & Loan Assn. Friday.

Most of the funds taken from the savings firm, located at the intersection of Ohio 8 and 619 northeast of here in Uniontown, were recovered.

Joseph Irvine, 22, of Akron, and Carl Lee Jr., 22, of Lakemore, an Akron suburb, were caught by Summit County sheriff's deputies and Akron police within an hour.

Their get-away car collided with another automobile along Old U.S. 224 near Mogadore and they were overtaken when they tried to flee on foot to a nearby woods.

Ralph Garduno, 21, of Lakemore, managed to make it into the woods and eluded police researchers who enlisted the help of a U.S. Navy blimp to hover over the treetops and spot from the air. But Garduno was arrested Friday night in southwest Canton at the apartment of his sister.

Mrs. Rhue E. Carl, one of two women tellers in the office when Irvine and Lee entered (Garduno waited in the car outside), told police Irvine staggered and his breath smelled of alcohol as he waved a Luger pistol and announced: "This is a stickup. I like to shoot. I like to kill."

Ohio Market Hog Price Shows Climb in Week

COLUMBUS (AP) — Prices paid for market hogs rose this week, averaging 55 cents per 100 pounds higher than the previous week at $18.30, the Ohio Department of Agriculture said.

Monday's opening price of $18 was 25 cents higher than last week's close. Tuesday's price increased 25 cents and Wednesday was 50 cents higher.

Heavy receipts at the major terminals and interior Ohio yards caused a decline of 25 cents on Thursday and a 50-cent decline Friday.

Polish Students Rioting Anew

WARSAW (AP) — Angry students and other Poles battled police, security troops and militia in Warsaw's streets Friday night in the second violent antigovernment demonstration in two days.

The street battling rolled up to the doors of Communist party headquarters, where the central committee was reported in emergency session, before the demonstration was smashed.

Unlike the fighting of Thursday night, which was confined to an area around the Polytechnic school, the violence this time spread to three sections of Warsaw. And for the first time, other Poles joined the 2,000 students in their defiance of the government.

The demonstrators hurled bricks and shouted "gestapo, gestapo," a reference to the Nazi secret police. They tossed back tear gas bombs thrown by the police.

Government forces beat the demonstrators with rubber truncheons, scattered them with tear gas and noise bombs and finally restored order after five hours of fighting.

NO FIGURES were available on the number of demonstrators arrested and injured. Many were rushed to hospitals in ambulances.

The rioting began after students had met peacefully and demanded the return of Po Prostu, a student newspaper banned Wednesday.

Ashville Broncos Post 18-7 League Win over Madison

Ashville's Bronco gridders won their second straight game coming up with an 18-7 decision at Madison South last night.

After a Bronco drive had been halted in the first quarter, the winners swung into high gear to register tallies in the second, third and fourth periods. Madison's lone touchdown came in the final quarter.

The Broncos displayed a potent attack, compiling 334 yards on the ground and completing two of seven passes.

Ashville's first touchdown came on a pass from Dick Hoover to Ron Bartholomew which covered 35 yards. In the third quarter full-back Fred Ackle made it, 12-0, by slashing off tackle for 18 yards and a touchdown.

THE Broncos' last rally was the result of Dick Hoover's 45 yard end sweep on a pitchout play.

Hoover again was Ashville's leading ground gainer, picking up

147 yards in 15 carries. Halfback Bill Hollenback also did a man-sized job, picking up 135 yards in eight tries.

Ashville turned on the steam immediately after taking the opening kickoff. The drive was sparked by Hollenback's 53-yard scamper on a reverse play. However, the drive fizzled on the host team's 12 when "Broncos suffered two straight penalties.

Bill Neal, Bob Hoover and Bartholomew were standouts for the Broncos on defense, each stopping Madison runners time after time. Bartholomew also sparked on pass defense, intercepting two enemy aerials.

Coach Russ Gregg was well-pleased with the victory, saying it definitely was a team win. He said much credit for the decision went to his hard-running backfield, some fine line play and the good quarterbacking of Bill Boyer.

The win gives the Broncos one victory and one loss in Darby Valley League play. The lone loss came at the hands of Mt. Sterling in the season opener.

Next week the Broncos travel to West Jefferson for a loop contest.

He Hopes Second Name Change To Work Out

HACKENSACK, N. J. (U.S.) — Milton Zeemont hopes the confusion over his name is ended.

Originally Milton Zaslesky, he had it changed to Milton Zee in 1941.

He was back in court Friday, asking Bergen County Judge Benjamin Gallanti to change the last name again.

"People get the name mixed up with the last letter in the alphabet," said Zee.

The judge changed the name to Milton Zeemont.

Court Rules Water Bill Off Ballot

COLUMBUS (U.S.A.)—A proposed constitutional amendment that would give the legislature control over the outside city limits sale of municipally-owned water and sewer services will not go on the ballot Nov. 5.

That is the result of two decisions handed down today by the Ohio Supreme Court. The court's decisions also will keep off the ballot a proposal to lift a ban on outside city sales of more than 50 per cent of a municipality's water and sewer service capacity.

In a 4-2 decision the court reversed an appeals court decision dissolving an injunction enjoining the secretary of state from placing the amendment as adopted by the Senate before the voters. The Senate before the measure lifted the 50 per cent ban and instituted legislative control of rates.

In a 6-0 decision the court concurred in an appeals court decision denying a mandamus action to compel the secretary of state to place on the ballot the original House proposal to lift only the 50 per cent ban.

In its decision the court upheld the view that the proposed amendment had been improperly adopted and did not pass on the home rule question.

In its injunction decision the court said that the amendment "which was apparently favorably voted upon by the Senate, is radically different from the amendment proposed to be submitted to the electors."

Hoffa To Shun Labor Warfare

New Teamster Chief Seeks Clean Slate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U.S.A.)—James R. Hoffa of Detroit, newly-elected president of the scandal-ridden Teamsters Union, promised never to fire the first shot in an American labor civil war.

But the 44-year-old Midwest Teamsters boss, who ramrodded Friday into the $50,000-a-year job of retiring president Dave Beck, warned that if the Teamsters are expelled from the AFL-CIO "we will be ready to defend ourselves with every ounce of strength we possess."

On the other hand, Hoffa promised to bend every effort to make peace with the AFL-CIO and to try to turn the Teamsters "into a model of trade unionism."

The scrappy five-foot, five-inch labor leader polled 72 per cent of the convention vote to defeat William A. Lee and Thomas J. Hagerty, both of Chicago.

The official count was Hoffa 1,208, Lee 313, Hagerty 140.

Hoffa is under indictment for wire-tapping and perjury and charged by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee and the AFL-CIO with misusing union funds and consorting with criminals.

HOFFA CAN expect little aid from Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee. McClellan said Hoffa's election was a challenge "to Congress to enact laws to protect rank and file members from gangsterism and racketeering control." McClellan added that in his opinion, "Congress will accept the challenge."

Denying charges against him Hoffa expressed hope that "the hasty threat will be withdrawn as time passes and we prove we are decent trade unionists."

Huge Rockslide in Northwest Buries Highway, Killing Trio

SEATTLE (U.S.A.)—Hundreds of thousands of tons of rock towering above a state highway in the Cascade Mountains broke away with but a few seconds warning Friday and snuffed out the lives of three road workers.

Another man was injured critically but a score or more of motorists escaped because an alert flagman saw dust spurring from the mountainside and trees "swaying in a crazy pattern."

The giant slide of rock broke loose at 5:09 p.m. at a point 60 miles east of Seattle on a section of U.S. Highway 10 known as the Snoqualmie Pass Road.

It was at a point where traffic was limited to one-way movement because construction of a new section has been going on for some men still were on maintenance and other duties.

Killed by the grinding chunks of rock were Clarence Sluder, 35, a State Highway Department road crew foreman; Knute Johnson, about 40, and Carson R. Mundis, 44, a truck driver. The injured man is Ed Sauve, 45.

Neil Wallace, 22-year-old flagman from Ellensburg, Wash., said a line of westbound cars had just passed his station and he was about to wave on a line of eastbound automobiles when he looked up and saw puffs of red dust shooting from cracks in the rocks.

"Then those big trees about 50 feet or so above us started dancing and swaying in a crazy pattern and I waved everybody back, shouting 'something's going to happen!'"

"Then the whole darn mountainside came down, huge chunks of rock the size of an automobile shooting forward and the trees falling every which way."

"It sent up a tremendous roar which lasted maybe 30 seconds. A great cloud of dust, set up by the grinding motion of the rock, spread out over the area and made it as dark as night."

Road equipment, trucks and a bulldozer disappeared beneath the rubble and the workmen were caught before they could scurry to safety. Mundis was swept over the far edge of the road as the rock clattered to the edge of Keechelus Reservoir 300 feet below the road level.

Dulles To Host Gromyko at Parley Today

WASHINGTON (U.S.A.)—Secretary of State Dulles confers with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today on the Middle East, disarmament, German reunification and other major problems in Russian-American relations.

Dulles reportedly wants to get the best possible line he can on Soviet foreign policy and to determine whether there are any prospects for a lessening of East-West tensions.

He is expected to take the occasion to emphasize to Gromyko that the United States is determined to resist the spread of Soviet power in the Middle East.

The afternoon meeting is scheduled in Dulles' home, in a quiet Washington residential section. Gromyko, who is attending United Nations General Assembly session in New York, was due here by train.

Dulles invited Gromyko to come to see him. Some officials said Dulles felt an exchange of ideas might very well produce nothing new on either side, but that he could not afford to overlook an opportunity for an exploratory discussion with the Soviet foreign minister.

Gromyko is not regarded here as a top policy making official, though he is one of Russia's most experienced diplomats.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN ?

Frightening, isn't it? You see a picture like this and suddenly you feel as if you are standing at the edge of a chasm in the dark. You are confronted with the threat of the unknown, and you don't like it.

Why, you wonder, does it have to be like this? Why can't men live together in peace?

We all need the courage to face the unknown future unafraid. We need to find and to develop love, understanding, and peace of mind. But to attain our goal, we need help. That help can be found in the Church, which gives us Faith.

On World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Test for Good Grooming Given Teen-age Lads

The first time Junior washes his neck and scrubs his nails without a cue from Mom, the family's astounded. They know something's afoot—but what?

Is it a secret passion for grooming suddenly come to light? Hardly!

Has he inadvertently developed the cleanliness habit? Not likely! Could it be... dare we name it? ...Love?

Ah, there's the answer that leads a teen-age lad to soap and water every time! He's suddenly discovered a G-I-R-L, sweet and dimpled and darling enough to leave Junior feeling most uncouth. That's why he's breaking records to become "couth" and at jet-plane speed.

But, you can't change the habits of a lifetime (even if it's only 15 or 16 years) overnight. Junior needs help.

Here's a round-up of 15 questions concerned with general health, eating, body care, clothes and grooming, getting along with people, feelings, orderliness, physique and muscle, school and vocation, family.

Try them on Junior. He'll have to answer Yes to each if he wants to win out:

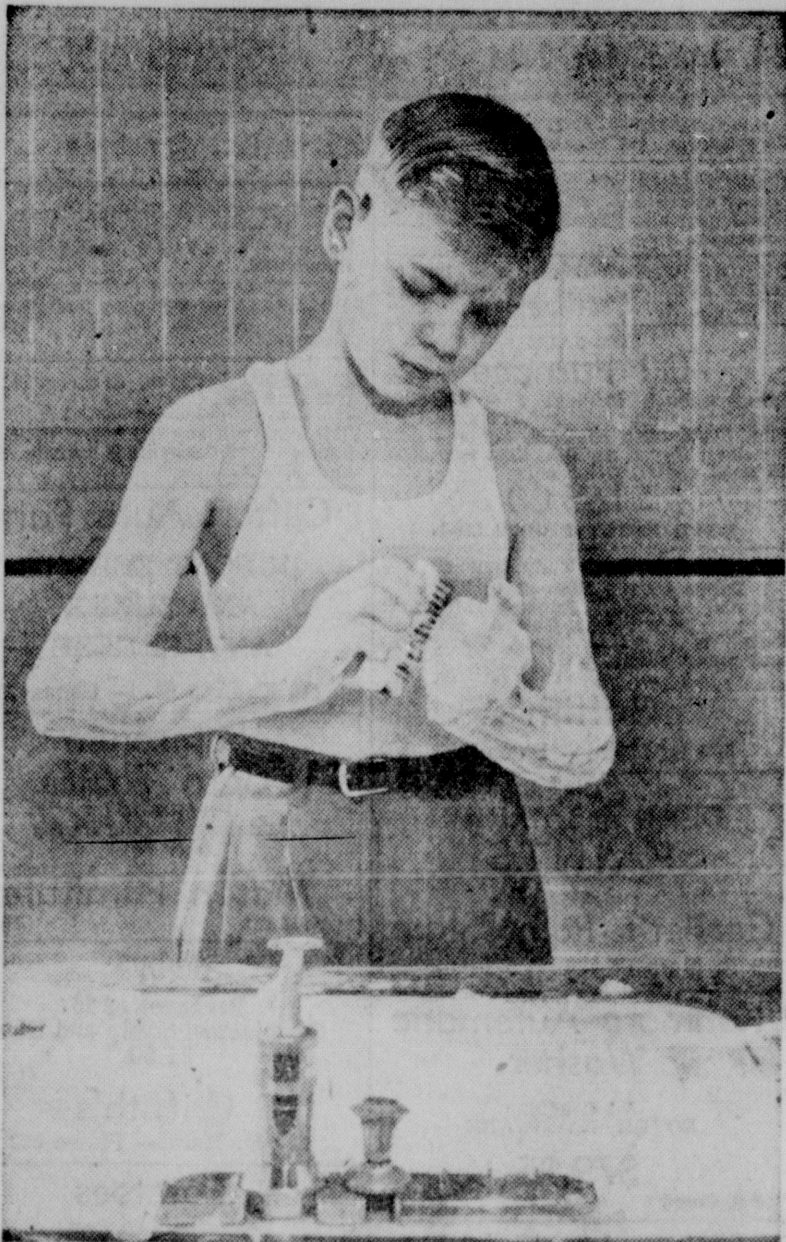

1. I get at least 9 hours of sound sleep at night.
2. I have dental checkups regularly.
3. I eat at regular hours.
4. I drink at least 4 glasses of milk daily.
5. My table manners are acceptable to others.
6. I take a bath or shower daily.
7. I brush my teeth after I eat.
8. I give special attention to cleanliness and to food when my complexion is bad.
9. If I find myself slouching because of fatigue, I do something about it.
10. I keep my hair clean and brushed.
11. I keep my nails clean and fairly short.
12. I use deodorant and foot powders when necessary.
13. I find it easy to talk with people.
14. I stay good-natured when I am teased.
15. I put my things away when I am through with them.

But Ziegfeld Name Famous Half-Century Since Follies

By M. E. BYRNE
Written for Central Press Association

Just 50 years ago a young genius of the American theater presented to Broadway a new kind of musical revue — in which the girls were not only startlingly beautiful but could actually dance. It was staged atop the roof of a theater and cost $13,000, which was money in those days.

Though the show was produced for the famed Klaw and Erlanger theatrical organization, the bright boy was the manager. His name was Florenz Ziegfeld and the show was the "Follies" of 1907.

There were to be 21 more editions of the "Follies" before Ziegfeld was to call it quits in 1931. However, long before that sad season which saw Ziggy bow out he was to become the best known showman in America — probably still is — having given the world of entertainment more topnotch comedians, comedienne, singers and dancers than probably any other producer in theatrical history.

A trip to the current Follies had become a must to every adoring Broadwayite as well as every visiting fireman who didn't dare return to his home in the sticks after a visit to New York and admit he hadn't seen the show.

ZIEGFELD HAD many imitators and, perhaps, on occasion a worthy rival, but none became the American household word that he did. "Ziegfeld comic" and "Follies beauty" were magic labels, and those who earned the titles could be as proud as a Hollywood Oscar winner.

It's interesting to note that the first four "Follies" did not bear the great impresario's name. However, with the 1911 edition the show became officially "Ziegfeld Follies." This title remained until the 1926 edition which was produced as the "Ziegfeld American Revue" due to complications in the settlement of affairs of the Klaw and Erlanger organization.

However, in 1927, the show resumed the "Ziegfeld Follies" name and continued under that banner until the bow out in '31.

Feminine, pulchritude and the Follies have become so synonymous in America that in listing the famous names that adorned Ziegfeld's playbills it is only proper to list first some of the more famous beauties who graced his glittering shows.

Tops among the gorgeous gals on the Ziegfeld league of lovelies probably was Gladys Glad, the stunning blonde who graced the last of the famous musical revues. Miss Glad, incidentally, added to her fame by conducting for many years a tremendously popular syndicated beauty column for the Central Press Association.

Right up there with Gladys in the good looks division, however, were such eye-poppers as Lillian Lorraine, Kay Laurell, Marion Davies, Justine Johnstone, Dorothy Knapp, Faith Bacon, Paulette Goddard, Lilyan Tashman, Myrna Darby and a doll known simply by the name of Dolores.

Other Ziegfeld cutie pies who jammed the bald-headed rows were Annabelle Whitford, Hilda Ferguson, Mae Murray, Florence Tempest, Peggy Hopkins, Muriel Stryker, Billie Dove, Gertrude Vanderbilt, Vera Maxwell, Olive Thomas, Dorothy Mackall, Bessie Clayton and Olive Vaughn. There were scores of others just as glamorous but space is lacking here.

THE ZIEGFELD SHOWS had dancers galore and among the top femme trippers were many who could have made the beauty list even without talent in the terpsichorean art. Most renowned, we suggest, was Marilyn Miller. Other show stoppers included Gilda Gray, Ann Pennington, Mitzi Mayfair, Mary Eaton, Lina Basquette, Florence O'Donnishawn, Louise Brown, Evelyn Law, Helen Brown and Greta Nissen and, briefly, the Dolly Sisters.

Highly acclaimed male steppers in the Ziegfeld show included such popular boys as Jack Donohue, the Britisher; Hal LeRoy and George White, who became a rival of Ziggy's as a musical revue producer with his Scandals shows.

Ziegfeld had a right to be mighty proud of the comedians who graced his shows, many of whom were among the outstanding comics of their time. Top laugh makers included W. C. Fields, Eddie Cantor, Bert Williams, Will Rogers, Leon Errol, Frank Tinney, Ed Wynn, James Barton, Jack Pearl, Lupino Lane, Charles Winninger, Raymond Hitchcock and Harry Richman.

Comic teams—such as Gallagher and Sheenan, Van and Schenck, Moran and Mack, Buck and Bubbles — flourished under Flo's banner. Among the better comedienues were Ray Dooley and Ina Claire.

Vocally the Ziegfeld shows were also top crust numbering such singers as Norah Bayes, Fannie Brice (also a great comedienne), Rae Samuels, Mary Lewis, Peggy Fears, Ruth Etting, Edna Leedom, Grace Moore, Helen Morgan and Sophie Tucker. Among the male warblers one must name John Steel and Jack Norworth.

These songbirds thrilled music written for them by such songwriters as Victor Herbert, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern, Rudolph Friml, Buddy DeSylva, Gene Buck and Gus Edwards.

Songs from the "Ziegfeld Follies" which are still often sung today include "Shine on Harvest Moon," "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody," "Tulip Time," "Girl of My Dreams," "Hold Me," "Tell Me Little Gypsy" and "My Man." And who will ever forget the rollicking "Mister Gallagher and Mister Sheenan"?

Yes, that Ziegfeld was in a class by himself.

Prof. Mike Todd Explains His Views on Economics

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — A lesson in economics by Prof. Mike Todd, delivered on the run, you might say, since that's the way you find him.

The matter of economics arose from a printed report that his take from "Around the World in 80 Days" is $460,000 a week.

Absolutely false, he said, bristling. The figure is much too low.

"During a recent week," he declared, "the total gross for the picture was around $1,200,000. Our return from the picture never can go under 60 per cent."

"We are now open in 46 cities," Todd said, "and by Oct. 17 — a convenient date — it's the film's first anniversary — we'll be open in 25 more. At Christmas time, it will be playing in 100 locations. The picture has closed only in two cities, and then from extraneous circumstances."

"So far the domestic take has been 16 million. On this basis, I think the estimates of a 50 million gross are in error. A hundred million is more like it."

The producer remarked that he was forced into such prosperity. When he needed $900,000 badly to finish the picture, he offered a distributor 16 per cent of the profits for a loan. The firm declined, preferring to be repaid in cash.

When Victor Young died, Todd picked up the rights to the composer's music company. The result: "Around the World" album blossomed forth as a top seller, yielding Todd another $200,000 a year.

Todd has blown many other millions, and I asked him if he could do it again.

"I don't think so," he said. "There's so much coming in now that it taxes even my ability to spend."

At this point, Liz awoke from a nap and stumbled into the room in a short nightgown. For the record: Yes, she even looks gorgeous just awakened and with her hair in curlers.

"I'm doing my bit for the future," she commented. "I'm seeing that the money goes into diamonds, furs, etc. Things we can hock later on."

To Win on TV, Try To Relax

$120,000-Winning Couple Tells Secret

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

How do you win a fortune on a television quiz show?

Well, the most important thing is to relax, say Erik and Helena Gude, the happy young couple from Los Angeles whose TV winnings to date top the $120,000 mark.

"A year ago we were broke," says pretty Helena, "and Erik was furious when he found I'd made a date for us to appear on the quiz program Do You Trust Your Wife?"

"I had to practically drag him to the studio. But now he feels differently about it."

The reason Erik feels differently is that the Gudes won $100 a week for the next 23 years on the original program, which starred Edgar Bergen. Then they were brought to New York to continue to press their lucky streak when the show changed to the ABC network, a new format and a new M. C., Johnny Carson.

Only now the ante has been upped from $100 a week for a year to a flat $1,000 per show, which now runs five days a week. If you won all week, you could pocket $5,000.

The Gudes have three children, Elena, Karl and Hans, aged 4, 3 and 2. Erik, a former Navy officer and a graduate of Annapolis, now employed as a civil engineer, answers most of the questions on the program, in which either husband or wife may take over.

Erik and Helena say the only cramping they do for the current quiz program is reading quiz books, full of extraneous information.

Queen Elizabeth II Distant Cousin of Geo. Washington

By MIKE SPOONER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A British cousin of George Washington will be coming to the United States in October at the same time that Queen Elizabeth arrives for an official state visit.

These double dignitaries will create no problem of protocol, however. For Washington's cousin and the queen are one and the same person! That's right. The queen is a distant cousin of the American general who led the Revolution against her predecessor on the English throne, King George III.

To be genealogically accurate, Queen Elizabeth is a second cousin of Washington, seven times removed. This makes her one of the closest living relatives of our first President. In addition, she's also related to another great American general, Robert E. Lee, to whom she would be a fifth cousin, in five times removed.

It is a bit involved—however, it seems that Queen Elizabeth is related to Washington through an early American settler named Augustine Warner, who lived in Virginia in the 1600s. Warner had two daughters, Mildred and Mary.

MILDRED WARNER became the grandmother of George Washington. Mary married a man named Smith and had a daughter Mildred. This Mildred became the wife of a man named Porteus, who moved the family back to England.

There Mildred Porteus had a granddaughter, also named Mildred Porteus, who was married to a man named Hodgson. The Hodgsons had a granddaughter who married Oswald Smith of Blendon Hall, Kent.

The Smiths' grandson became the 14th Earl of Strathmore. This Earl was the father of the present queen mother of England, the grandmother of Queen Elizabeth.

Incidentally, the Strathmores also are related by marriage to the Churchill family, now represented by Sir Winston Churchill, the former prime minister. In the 1600s, about the same time Augustine Warner was planting the roots of this involved family tree, the Spencers married into another family of English bluebloods called the Wessingtons.

The Wessingtons had leased a whole English village and manor house from the bishop of Durham some five centuries earlier. By Revolutionary times, their name had changed to Washington—and George Washington's forebears long ago had emigrated to America.

At the Washingtons' ancestral home, Sulgrave manor, may still be seen this family's coat of arms containing a shield, stripes and five-pointed stars. Some say it was the basis of our own American flag.

The Washington family coat-of-arms at Sulgrave manor.

Cousin of Geo. Washington

So there seem to be many ties between England and America. The National Society of Colonial Dames of America has invited Queen Elizabeth to become a member on her forthcoming visit. According to the rules of the society, a member must have had a distinguished ancestor who took an active part in American affairs before the Revolution. Augustine Warner seems to qualify the queen on that score.

It may be that Queen Elizabeth also may be invited to join the Daughters of the American Revolution. After all, another distinguished ancestor of hers—George Washington—took an active part in that affair too, albeit on the opposite side!

Movie Mean Cuss Portrays Public Benefactor on TV

HOLLYWOOD — The actor least likely to play the crusader for victims of false imprisonment is Lyle Bettger.

Yet he's doing it on NBC's new show, "Court of Last Resort," every Friday night. Bettger plays the investigator for the group of citizens who review cases of prisoners who claim they are innocent of the crimes they were sentenced for.

The paradox is that Bettger is an expert in portraying mean lusses on the screen. You'll remember him as the sadistic animal trainer in "The Greatest Show on Earth" and the outlaw leader in "Gunfight at OK Corral." Of his 18 movies, only one showed him as a nice guy—"The Carnival Story."

So how did he get the TV series?

"It was a matter of chance," he related. "Two years ago, I did a half-hour film for the Reader's Digest series about a successful businessman who goes off his rocker from overwork. It was a very tense role, but at the beginning and end I was interviewing a woman whose husband had also blown his top. Then I told my own story."

"Well, the producers of 'The Court of Last Resort' were looking for a director and saw my Digest film as an example of the work of Peter Godfrey. They liked the way I interviewed the wife, and I got this role. Undoubtedly, they never would have thought of me for it if they had seen any of my movies."
